

From Graduation to Travel Nursing.

Travel nursing is a very lucrative option for nurses, but not just everyone has the drive to be one.

Kay will walk your students down the path of what they need to become a successful traveling nurse within a few years after graduation.

When Can I Get Started?

- What you need to prepare for.
- Do you have the right qualities?
- Are you mentally & physically ready?
- Is the lifestyle for you?

Getting Ready To Go

- What credentials do I need?
- What skills do I need?
- What about basic protocols & procedures?
- What about my critical thinking skills?

What Else Is Needed?

- Finding a great agency.
- Finding a great recruiter.
- The submittal process.
- The interview with the hospital.

Ready to Hit the Road

- What it is in the contract?
- What basic tax implications to I need to know.
- What do I need to pack?
- Getting ready for my first day on the job.

“Immediate Change Noticed”

“They became very eager to try the techniques that Kay discussed and more confident in dealing with candidates. Ultimately we placed more positions with seasoned travelers than we did before.”

Joanie Reneer, RN, BSN, Owner & COO Medical Staffing Solutions, LLC

Why Kay Slane, RN?

EDUCATION:

Kay has an Associates in Nursing (ADN), a Bachelors in Natural Science Education (BSNSE), and a Certificate of Grad-level Management (CGM).

EXPERIENCE:

Kay has been a licensed nurse since 1992 with experience in med/surg/tele, rehab, emergency care, and hospital nursing supervision.

TRAVELS:

Kay has practiced the art of nursing in 12 different states all the way from California to the Carolinas. She wrote THE book on travel nursing, "Highway Hypodermics: Travel Nursing 2017," which has remained as a top 100 in Medical Reference on Amazon.com since being published.

EDUCATING:

Kay has been teaching travel companies about what nurses want in an agency from the nurses perspective since 2007. She gives you a glimpse of what it is like to be out in the field along with situations that can and DO come up and how to best to handle them.

“Everyone Learned A Lot”

“Thanks for hanging with us and imparting your wisdom. Everyone here is super appreciative and felt like they learned a lot!”

Empower Your Student.

Let's face it... it is impossible for new graduates to know what to expect if they want to become a travel nurse unless they are taught before hand what travel nursing is really all about.

Kay will teach your nurses exactly what travel healthcare agencies are looking for and how they can have a successful travel career.

Imagine your students having inside knowledge of the traveling industry that can only come from an experienced traveler.

This is an amazing value in that once the student is empowered with this information, they will see a realistic view of what it really is like to be a traveling healthcare professional.

In fact, Kay will teach your students how to overcome their fears before the problem even comes up.
